

TIFFANY REID

You are invited to an exhibition entitled

SUMMER IDYLL

JUNE 27 – JULY 17, 2019

RECEPTION: THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 2019 6-8 PM

Tiffany Reid uses acrylics, textured pastes, resin, and recycled materials to create paintings and mixed-media sculptures that speak to subjects such as the mutual attraction between the moon, earth, and ocean. Her chosen materials (which are distinguished by their range) bring depth and emotion to each work, using bright contrasting colors and textured, gestural brush strokes to communicate a powerful feminine-creative message. Cutting across her whole oeuvre is a narrative tendency, which depicts a wordless story, inviting viewers to enter into each painting, question it, and become a part of its world, thereby being transported to an unimagined plane.

Each of Reid's pieces are thoughtfully crafted with the intent of taking the viewer on a sensorial journey. Her works constantly challenging viewer's expectations, taking on various unpredictable forms not limited to landscapes and portraits. Reid manages to find a delicate balance of chaos and structure in her terrestrial-themed paintings. In the artist's own words, "My intention is to connect to the active part of the brain, leaving a hint, new idea, question, or feeling—each unique for the viewer to conceptualize."
